INTRODUCTORY

Denver Directory Office.
June, 1911.

We present this, the thirty-ninth issue of continuous publication of the Denver City Directory, by the present firm, for your approval.

This Directory contains 122,921 names, which is an increase of 5,848 names over last issue, and would indicate a population of 225,000, which the publishers believe to be a conservative estimate of the population of this community at the present time.

You will see that this volume contains less pages than last year's issue, which is accounted for by the widening of columns and the use of more abbreviations.

Population, however, is not the only growth of the City. The pages of this volume present evidence of general civic and commercial advancement. Many new industries are listed; new business blocks, new apartment houses, new theatres, new schools, new churches. All these mean a progress more important to a municipality than mere numbers of inhabitants.

Careful and painstaking effort has been expended in every department, and we wish to express our appreciation of the efforts of those who have co-operated with our representatives to make a work of this kind possible.

THE PUBLISHERS.

EXPLANATION TO STREET GUIDE.

It will be noticed that in this Street Guide the names of the streets are mentioned in alphabetical order, giving the course in which they run, as near as possible, to all points of the compass, and enumerating all streets which cross the same in the order in which they occur, except on such streets as are crossed by numeral streets or avenues exclusively.

The decimal system of numbering being adopted, one hundred numbers are assigned to each square, giving one number to each twelve and one-half feet, or two numbers to each lot of twenty-five feet, beginning at the Platte River on the west at 0, and 100 at First street, increasing northeasterly on Larimer and all streets running parallel.

Streets crossing Larimer are numbered from Broadway increasing northwesterly. On Broadway and on streets running parallel with same the numbers increase northward and southward from Ellsworth avenue at 0. Avenues crossing Broadway are numbered east and west from Broadway at 0, prefixing the word West to that portion of the avenue west of Broadway, as follows: West Twelfth avenue would apply to that part of Twelfth avenue west of Broadway.

All West avenues run parallel with West Colfax avenue and from West Sixteenth avenue north to West Fifty-second avenue are located north and west of the Platte River. All other avenues run parallel to Colfax avenue.

For convenience in locating the streets and avenues, we have used the most prominent streets, avenues, boulevards and the Platte River as locating points.
